dred printed pages, and embraces a careful review of the testimony. Mr. Whit-thorne, computing the naval appropriations, the amount r ceived from material, and the present indebtedness of the department, foots up two hundred mil-lion dollars as the amount received and expended by the navy department. Reviewing the present condition of the navy, it is shown by the testimony of Admiral Perter and other high officers to be completely worthless and inefficient, the result of great waste and extravagance in expending this large sum of money. The next step is to show how this occurred, namely, by electionsering methods and practices, by using unskilled labor, by purchasing unsuitable timber which has been wasted, by favoritism to contractors, by frauds in purchases, by barter and exchange in ma-terial. The report shows the several violations of law by open pur-chases, by bureau orders, by pri-vate sales, by illigal purchases, by transfers of appropriations, by a false system of accounts, destroying old bills and makigg out new ones, and by the use of government material for private purposes. There are special heads and discussions of the abuses of the Philadelphia navy yard, the Norman Wiard business, the foreign account and the Jay Cock matter, the robbery of thclothing fund, and the payment of old and unjust claims. The statutes viola-ted are specially cited, and the cases of violation named. Out of these violations of law, it is argued, naturally spring a new article of merchandise, known as the sale of "influence" with the department, and the cases of such sale here are given, including the Cattells, Murtgage & Co. In view of the fact that the laws thus violated do not in most cases affix penalties, it is suggested that the testimony be referred to

The Long-Looked-For Courier Arrived Safe at Fort Fetterman-His Reports of the Situation.

CHEYENNE, July 22 .- A courier who left Goose Creek on the evening of the sixteenth arrived at Fort Fetterman tonight. His delay was caused by hav ing met at Powder river a body of two buggired Indians, from whom he escaped, hiding himself in the timber for twenty-four hours, one Indian following his trail nine miles. He says they were evidently waiting for him, and fears that the conriets sent from Fetterman on the sixteenth instant, with dispatches for Crook, have been intercepted, as he saw their trail on this side of the river, but not beyond. His delay run him cut of rations compelling him to fast two days He left all quiet in camp. The hostile Sloux are believed to be north of Goose Creek, about forty miles, and not far from the scene of the late massacre on the Little Big Horn. They have not fired into camp lately nor attempted to burn it out, although the parched coudition of the grass renders this somewhat easy, at least the animals may be robbed of their sustenance. The wagon train gives them a supply until October. The command moved seven miles north on the day of the courier's departure, to a branch of Tongue river, near Bighern mountains, where they camp until the Fifth cavalry, which will leave Fort Laramie Monday, reaches them, which will be about the fifth of August. Gen. Crook will make no aggressive movement until this event, when, if the couriers whom he has dispatched to the territory advising them to join him succeeds in reaching that command, he will have made a junction with Terry, the next action will prove decisive one. Nothing not already reported pertaining to Gan. Merrit's late engagement the hext Governor of the "I m. pire State,"

From an Occasional Correspondent of the Appeal.] Rome, Ga., July 20.-Rome possesses great advantage over would-be rivals n its latitude, in the way of location, being situated at the intersection of the Etowah and Oostanaula rivers, which unite at this point to form the Coosa, which is itself a tributary of the Alabams. The expenditure of a few thousand dollars has very lately put the Oostanaula in a navigable condition as far is Resacs, and the rapidly increasing trade is a sufficient argument to prove the wisdom of the appropriation. W. H. Felton, member of congress from this district, 1 learn, secured an appropriation of forty thousand dollars for the improvement of the Cooss, which wil open communication at all seasons o the year to the Selma bridge, and add still further to the prosperity of Rome. The manufacturing interests of the city. which were, until the panic of 1873, in a state of growing activity, have been, since that unfortunate period, either entirely stagnant, or in a state of suspension. During the present year, however, the manufacture of iron has been revived, and one large mill is now running day and night, making mails, carwheels, railroad iron, and every species of heavy hardware. Furnaces throughout this section, which have been in a condition of enforced idleness, are again eginning work, and the day is not far distant, it seems to me, when the iron industry of Cherokee, Georgia, of which is, or ought to be, the commercial center, will be as vigorous and prosperous as in ante bellum time. The mill I have alluded to is in the hands of the Noble Brothers, gentlemen whose business ca pacity, skill and capital are ample guarantees of success in their enterprises There are also, in the immediate neigh borhood of Rome, five large flouring mills, all of which are now running to their utmost capacity, and producing flour, meal and grits of a quality unsurpassed in the United States. THE MEMPHIS BRANCH RAILROAD. The enterprise in which Memphis is most nearly interested, in common with Rome, is the above named railroad. I President J. R. Taylor eccupied the chair, Mr. J. B. Lawrence, being secretary, being present and discharging the Charleston railroad at Decatur. There are the charge of importance, as it runs directly through is a prospect of its completion, as soon as business revives sufficiently. Improvements have been slowly but steadtion, and will be ready for occupancy in the fall. The dwellings are as beautiful. tasteful and elegant as in any city within my knowledge, and display an an preciation of solid comfort and a dislike of ostentation, which is one of the characteristics of the people. Rome has a population of nearly eight thousand, and it is impossible, with its many advantages ciim ate Anderson moved that a committee of location and society, that it should not, in a decade, be three times that number. Among other things worthy of note, is the admirable system of water supply. The city is furnished with an unfailing stream of the purest and brightest water from a large and inexhaustible spring east of the city, whence the water is pumped into a tower one hundred and forty feet in hight, which is built upon a hill, much higher than the general level of the town. er is a constant place of resort, both for citizens and strangers, as it affords an

> country, which, with its alternation o hill and vale, is certainly one of the levelies: landscapes in this cr in any POLITICAL MATTERS. Georgia will give Tilden and Hendricks the largest majority of any southern St te, save Texas, somewhere in the neighborhood of seventy-five thousand. Gen. Alfred H. Colquitt is destined to be her next governor. Hardeman's withdrawal will strengthen the Colquitt column, which now numbers one hundred and ninety-seven to twenty-eight Rys and cats are in abundance, selling at from thirty-seven and half cents to a half dollar a bushel. Irish potatoes, the finest I ever saw, "go begging" at forty cents, while other vegetables are in the greatest profusion and very cheap.

FORREST CITY, ARK., July 20 - We have the finest prospects for cotton and corn that I ever saw; the rains have fallen just as we wanted them, and a no time during the year have we suffered for rain. Our early corn we conside yesterday afternoon, and are registered made, as no drouth could now affect it. Cotton is shoulder high, and full of forms, squares and bolls. Some of us sell at twenty-five or thirty cents per bushel. Large quantities of and is now being harvested. Our wheat back is in the hog crop—the cholera is playing havor with that. This county is rapidly filling up with emigrants, and in a few years will be the garden spot of Arkansas. Tell your saudhill readers of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and West Tennessee to leave a country where they have to cultivate four acres to make one bile of cotton and come out here where they can make one bale to the acre, or fifty to sixty bushels of corn. To show you how cheap it is to live here, I give you a few prices: Mutton, len cents per pound; beef, same; chickens, one dollar and fifty cents and two dollars per dozen; eggs, twelve and a half cents per dozen; butter, good fresh, fifteen cents per pound; rossting ears, ten cents per dozen; squash, tomatoes, snaps, etc., five cents a water-bucket ful. We will promise all a pleasant time, and give every young lady or gent, who hasn't one, a sweetheart. We ex Memphians all feel a deep interest in the politics of our dear old Tennessee. We are sorry to see the shoot Direcy B. Thomas is taking, as he will only strengthen the Radicals to a small extent, and be sure to be defeated. "How have the mighty fallen!" And so Colonel G. M. P. Turner has at last found his proper bed. Poor fellow! he has been out in the cold so long that he wants to get hold of the public teat awhile. Can't you arrange it so that Tilden and Hendricks will not find out that he is opposed to them, as I am afraid they might dec ine to accept the nomination. "Alie, poor Yorick." Everything in this country will yo Democratic, and for Tilden and Hendricks. Our local politicians are hard at work. Only about fourteen candidates for every office. I believe I am the only man in town who is not a candidate. Weather has been quite warm for the last three doing so. Come along, and bring every-body and his fami y. We will promise town who is not a candidate. Weather has been quite warm for the last three or four days; thermometer 90° to 96° in the shade. The Mississippi Grain Trade.

The Pall Mull Gazette has a very sug gestive article on the it fluence likely to exerted on the grain trade of the United States by the removal of the bar at the mouth of the Mississippi, an operation, the success of which seems to os well nigh as used. It appears probabla that at no distant date the valley the Mississippi will furnish England, I not Germa y, with the grain supplies which she has here ofore drawn from the southern provinces of Russis.

Great Female Medicine. A TRIAL of the medicine will convince the most skeptical. Every sensible person knows there are incurable cases of disease, and those who profess to cure all diseases, regardless of malignancy, the age and condition of the principal case than condition of the principal case than constitution of the principal case o gardiess of malignancy, the age and condi-tion of the patient, are nothing less than char-latans. We claim to cure all cases that are gu-rable, and to pailiate the incurable, and ren-der life as comfortable as possible. We have been making and sending the PILLS to differ-ent States within the last five years, where we had acquaintance, and where the facilities instified it, and there is not one whom we have heard from but was onlirely cared, or greatly relieved, and will not be without them. We prescribed them for a lady at White's Station, on the Memphis and Charles-ton Railroad. She commenced their use, but soon removed to the State of Illinois. After the pills gave out, she wrote to send her two boxes, as she could not live without them. boxes, as she could not live without them.
